

HARVEST WEEK SHOWS BETTER WHEAT YIELDS

Prices Vault as Result of Low General Yield

20% OF NORMAL

Shipments Being Made at Several Places in Randall

Harvest has been in full swing over the county during the past week with various yields being reported by farmers in all sections. 17 bushels to the acre by W. G. Rose is the best report that has been made in this part of the county, and the yield goes on down as low as 2 bushels per acre which has been reported by some farmers. The test runs high with continued favorable harvest weather.

An estimate was called for Tuesday by state officials. While it is hard at this time of the season to make such an estimate, it was believed by many from the yields so far reported that Randall county will make possibly as high as 20% of the normal yield. Some grain dealers believe that this estimate is too high, considering that many sections of the county will make no wheat.

Only three cars of wheat had been shipped from Canyon yesterday, but the elevators reported a large amount of wheat on hand ready to ship.

Shipments have been made from Umbarger, Ralph and Haney, all shipping points in the county. Happy is reported to be receiving about 10 carloads daily at the five elevators.

Price climbing has been the feature of the past week, with a top of 82 cents Tuesday. The market dropped 6 cents yesterday. Wheat is selling at the highest point in three years, with prediction that it may go even higher. The general drought in all wheat sections has cut the crop, and will be of great benefit to those who produce some wheat this year.

Picnic and Bathing Grounds Offered at T-Anchor

The T-Anchor Ranch has provided a place for out of door swimming for the college and town. A strong, well built dam has been constructed across Spring Creek, and a pool with water varying from 3 to 19 feet has resulted.

Diving boards of several heights have been constructed, and bath houses are being built.

Additional improvements to the pool and surroundings will be made as rapidly as possible, the only source of revenue for the work being the small charge that is made for the swimming privilege. Kenneth Livingston, principal of the Junior High School of Portales, New Mexico, and a summer resident at the farm is in charge of the pool, and expert swimmers from the farm force are acting as life guards.

Ten cents per person is charged for swimming, but season tickets are offered for One Dollar, for adults and 50 cents for children. Mr. Livingston states that whenever a group of ten or more come to the pool a rate of five cents per person is allowed.

Grates and tables have been arranged, and a supply of firewood provided so that parties can have picnic suppers or breakfasts following the evening or early morning swim. It is the hope of those in charge that the T-Anchor pool may become a valuable and safe recreation spot for both children and adults of town and college. Parties of Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts are especially invited to use the pool, when accompanied by their scoutmasters or captains.

Park Project May Be Settled Today

Difficulties Seem to be Settled at Austin—Loan Approved

Final approval of the Palo Duro State Park is expected to be made today or tomorrow. Every indication last night pointed to the fact that the project would most certainly be approved, and that work troops would be moved in the near future to the sites recently selected. Developments of the past week indicate that when the Palo Duro project is finally approved that it will be much larger in scope than at first anticipated. The park may extend over a much larger area of land than at first contemplated, although nothing definite has been announced as to the larger park being projected.

Fred Emory, representing the owners of the 14,600 acres in the Byars Bros. ranch, went to Washington from Austin last week, where new papers were presented on the Park deal. This was necessary owing to objections raised in Austin to the title of the land. A new deed was worked out by Senator Clint Small and others interested in the project. In Washington, Mr. Emory was notified that the Palo Duro project had been formally approved by the President and nothing stood in the way of its development excepting the objections raised in Austin.

Julius Dorfield left Amarillo Saturday for Austin and conferred with James E. Ferguson, Lawrence Westbrook, and the attorney general's department on Monday. He received an approval of the attorney general on Tuesday which was sent by Mr. Westbrook to Washington. This approval is scheduled to arrive in Washington today.

Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Marvin Jones wired yesterday that no effort would be spared by them to secure immediate approval from the national park board.

On Tuesday the R. F. C. approved a loan of $120,000 to the State Park Board for immediate use on the Palo Duro, and an additional loan of $54,000 under certain conditions which must be met by the state officials. The application for this loan was made in January by D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Park Board, before the reforestation army had been authorized. Information available yesterday indicates that this money would be available for improving the Byars Bros. land for a State Park even though the reforestation army is not secured for the project.

A representative of the national park system visited the Palo Duro Friday and was highly elated over the prospect of a real park. He came feeling that the Palo Duro had been overestimated, but left highly praising its possibilities.

Col. Oscar Seward, chief engineer of the canyons projects, was here Tuesday and stated that he expected the chief inspector of the southwest division during this week, and feels sure that when this official sees the Palo Duro, all doubts of the worth of the project will vanish. Col. Seward is working on the highway project into the canyon. Other plans for the park development were worked out several months ago by the state board of water engineers.

"The Palo Duro Park is going to be put over in spite of any opposition which has developed," stated Col. Seward.

R. R. Brooks Is Arrested for Theft Complaint of Decker

Sheriff Bob Barnett has returned from Sherwood with R. R. Brooks, who was arrested by the sheriff at that place on complaint made by John Decker, charging Brooks with theft of cattle.

Brooks has been living southwest of the city, near the Decker place. Brooks was charged in justice court, and will face the necessity of making bond or wait in jail for the action of the grand jury in August.

CANYON WINS 11 OF 15 GAMES WITH BORGER

Only 15 Borger golf players came Sunday for the return engagement with the Canyon team.

The Canyon team won 11 matches and the visitors won 4.

"Governor Ross" in Statement to Sheriff Admits Guilt

"Governor Ross" signed a statement to Sheriff Bob Barnett last Thursday afternoon that he was guilty of piling ties on the Santa Fe tracks north and south of Canyon. Train No. 22 hit two old ties which "Governor Ross" had piled across the track north of Canyon, the engine carrying the pieces for two miles. Had the ties been new, the train would probably have been wrecked. The man was arrested in Plainview and returned to Canyon by the Sheriff and special Santa Fe officers.

"Governor Ross" is the only name the man will give. He states that he was in the insane asylum in New Mexico. He had cut down a farmer's fence, and burned his feed stacks. On being discharged, he was given a railroad ticket to Temple. He states that he was trying to return to New Mexico, and was refused transportation by the Santa Fe in Amarillo and again was kicked off the train in Canyon. To get even with the Santa Fe, he states that he piled the ties on the railroad.

Action against the man is being withheld until the Santa Fe officers decide upon what course.

Rotary Club Will Not Meet Tuesday - Next Week, July 4

The Canyon Rotary Club will observe July 4th by not meeting, according to announcement Tuesday of President Oscar Gano. On the next meeting, July 11th, Oscar will make his farewell talk as president of the club. At the meeting of the club Tuesday he handed the gavel to Sylvester Ingham, president-elect for the coming year. A rising vote of appreciation was given Oscar as an expression of the services he had rendered the past year.

J. H. Cox, Jr., was in charge of the program Tuesday, introducing Miss Juanita Campbell, who gave a group of readings.

BODY OF TOM PARKER PASSED THROUGH CITY

Tom Parker of Tulla was killed in an automobile wreck at Needles, Calif., Sunday. The body arrived on the Santa Fe yesterday being taken to Tulla for burial. Mr. Parker has been a prominent stock farmer in Swisher county for a number of years.

Mrs. George Nance is a daughter of Mr. Parker.

CARLSBAD TRIP PLANNED JULY 4th BY COLLEGE

Bus Transportation Offers Very Low Rate

COURTESY EXTENDED

Arrangement Close Friday—Tickets at Shaw's Office

"What are you going to do the Fourth of July?" Why not visit Carlsbad Cavern? The West Texas State Teachers College has arranged a trip for students which is also open to townspeople who wish to go.

Superintendent Thos. Boles has extended to the party a "Courtesy Tour" of the cavern, and a special price on the noonday lunch which is served in one of the lovely rooms of the cave. Only ticket holders can secure these courtesies and these tickets can be secured only from the office of Business Manager Travis Shaw. Those using their courtesy privileges must go into the cave with the Canyon party on Tuesday morning, July fourth.

To accommodate those who wish to make the trip in the most inexpensive way, bus transportation has been secured, provided there are enough people going to assure the transportation company a load. The fare from Canyon to the Cavern and return is $6.50, this being a remarkably low rate for the trip of more than 650 miles. The bus will leave Canyon, from the College at 1:30 p. m. Monday, and will arrive at Canyon on the return trip about 9:00 p. m. Tuesday.

Hotel accommodations may be secured for from $1.00 to $1.50 per person and tourist camp facilities, if available, may possibly be had for even less.

Mr. Shaw states that Courtesy tickets, lunch tickets at the special rate, and bus tickets should be purchased today, and must be purchased before noon Friday in order to assure the trip. Canyon people who wish information about the trip can get it by calling Mr. Shaw's office, number 62. The entire trip can be made for less than $10.00 offering Canyon people an unusual opportunity to enjoy an unusual Fourth of July observance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Walker, Mrs. T. C. Thompson and Mrs. Burt Newlin returned Saturday from a two weeks' vacation trip to Eagles Nest, New Mexico.

Suggested Projects Made for Canyon

What improvement would you like to see made in Canyon with government loans which are being made in relief work? The government would make a gift of 30% on acceptable projects. The News asks citizens to respond this week as to projects they favor.

The following projects have been suggested:

- A city or county hospital.
- Creamery or cheese factory.
- Graveled road to the south-east part of county.
- County library building.
- County jail.
- City parks.

Process Wheat Tax and Increase Price Boost Flour Price

Prices on flour and all commodities on the market which are made of wheat are soaring in price. The wheat market hit $1.00 per bushel on the Fort Worth market Tuesday for the first time in three years. With the short crop over the nation, it is predicted that prices will go even higher.

The new process tax will become effective July 8th, which will boost the price of flour. On that date a tax of $1.44 per barrel will be added to the stocks carried by the mills and jobbers. This means an increase of 35 cents for 48 pounds of flour. Added to the increase in wheat prices, this is expected to greatly increase the price of flour. This money will be used to pay the wheat farmers for reducing their acreage.

Merchants are urging patrons to buy flour before the prices further increase.

W. B. Hankins Is Found Dead Near Highway Thursday

W. B. Hankins of Panhandle was found dead Thursday morning near the highway north of town. Investigation directed by Justice of the Peace, J. L. Prichard, indicated that Hankins had gone to a tree near the highway Wednesday night to rest. A newly rolled cigarette lay at his feet, and a match was in his hand. Heart trouble was pronounced to be the cause of his death.

George and John Hankins of Panhandle, brothers of the deceased, were located Thursday afternoon, coming to take charge of the body. It was shipped to Sagerton Thursday where their mother lives. Two other brothers and two sisters, together with the mother survive.

Hankins was a member of the Legion Post at Panhandle.

ADJUSTMENT FOR WHEAT TO START

Canyon Won College Because No Saloons Were Allowed Here

"Canyon was selected as the site of the College because Canyon was a dry town," stated Rev. C. W. Foote, Sunday, in discussing the prohibition question. This fact was given by Dr. R. B. Cousins the first president of W. T., who was a member of the locating committee for the college. Had there been saloons in Canyon, the college would never have been located here.

Rev. Foote and Rev. J. R. Hicks of the Baptist church discussed the prohibition question from their pulpits Sunday. Other pastors in the city have been asked to speak upon the question before August 26th.

"If the Methodists and the Baptists alone, to say nothing of all the other church members in Texas, will vote dry, Texas will remain a dry state," believes Rev. Foote.

The liquor element is seeking to fool prohibitionists in several ways, pointed out Rev. Foote. After they get beer, this will not satisfy them, and they will demand all kinds of liquor, they are trying to fool the poor people by seeking to shift the tax burden to the shoulders of the poor, through the beer tax; they are seeking to fool prohibitionists by telling them that prohibition has been a failure. None of them advocate repealing the laws against theft, murder, arson, just because these laws are being violated, were statements of the speaker.

Voting for beer means the return of the saloon. "The power of the saloon is the vote—often of church members; its product is liquor; its raw material consists of the boys and girls of this country; its product is the drunkard," stated Rev. Foote. "Do you want to give your boy and your girl to the liquor interest?" asked the speaker.

An appeal was made for all church members to go to the polls and to vote against the impending dangers. They should be aroused by the dangers of this issue.

Old Stock Pens Near Depot Are Being Removed

Another old land mark is being removed from the city limits. The stock pens east of the Santa Fe depot are being torn down and the lumber removed.

These pens have been in this location since the building of the railroad. They were erected by the contractors for their horses and mules. C. O. Keiser bought the property many years ago and used the pens for his registered Hereford bulls. When the new Santa Fe depot was erected it was suggested that if the pens were removed that the Santa Fe would establish a park on both sides of the street. Whether or not this will be done at the present time has not been ascertained.

B. Frank Buie, a Former Citizen Died at Carlsbad

B. Frank Buie died at Carlsbad, N. M., last Thursday noon, according to a telegram received by Dr. S. L. Ingham. Judge Buie is well known to many Canyon people, having lived here for many years where he was a prominent attorney. He practiced law at various places in Texas for more than 50 years.

The family has lived at Carlsbad for several years.

PENALTY AND INTEREST IF TAXES ARE NOT PAID

June 30th is the last day for payment of the second installment of split taxes. Whereas the legislature remitted penalty and interest on taxes which were delinquent at the time the law was passed, this remission does not apply to second installment taxes which were not paid. Therefore, under the law, 10% penalty and 6% interest will be added if the taxes are not paid by June 30th.

FARMERS HAVE ALL TO GAIN IN MOVEMENT

Local Committee Is To Work With State Group

DETAILS HERE SOON

President Trying to Assist Farmers With Problem

Plans are being made for the much discussed wheat acreage adjustment campaign, according to County Agent W. H. Upchurch, yesterday. O. B. Martin, Director of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, attended a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in Kansas City early this week to work out rules for the administration of the campaign to enlist the cooperation of Texas wheat growers in a voluntary reduction of the winter wheat acreage for next year.

This campaign is to be undertaken as soon as details can be worked out. The amount of the reduction allowed will perhaps be small. In any case it will not exceed 20% of a previous average acreage seeded. The allotment for the state and the different counties has already been made. It is hoped that payments from the Government on acreage held out of wheat will be a great help to farmers who need funds for the seedling of the crop this fall. It is expected that acreage for Randall County as a whole will not be very

COTTON FARMERS

Any cotton farmer who is interested in taking advantage of the Government bonus for cotton acreage reduction may secure contracts at the county agent's office. These should be signed this week. No committee has as yet been appointed for Randall County owing to the small acreage of cotton; however, if there is a demand for the contracts, arrangements will be made to take care of farmers who sign them.

W. H. UPCHURCH, County Agent.

greatly reduced owing to the intention of so many farmers to reduce acreage even more than that required by the adjustment program. This county might easily produce as much as a normal wheat crop on 80% of our average acreage for the past 3 years and at the same time receive a substantial cash payment in advance on the 1934 crop.

It seems to be especially true in Randall County that the farmers have much to gain and nothing to lose by cooperating with the President in this attempt to give the farmer a square deal as well as a new deal.

Randall County Is Asked for $70 For Exhibit at Chicago

Texas has no exhibit at the fair being held in Chicago. There is a large space reserved for the exhibit, but none has been placed there.

The newspapers of Texas have been asked to raise the necessary money to place an exhibit at the fair, and 1 cent for each citizen in the county is assessed. Randall county's quota would be $70.

The News will appreciate receiving contributions to this fund, and will forward the same to headquarters in Dallas.

Three more states have voted against the 18th amendment, making the total of fourteen which have come out for the return of legalized booze. The only surprise of the fourteen was when Iowa voted wet last week. Of course the anti-prohibitionists played a fast game in getting repeal voted in the "safe" states first. Using the plea of President Roosevelt as a background, the anti started a vigorous campaign in those states which would roll up a large vote majority. The psychology is working fine. "Let the majority rule," and "back up the President," will cause many hitherto dries to vote for booze. The ridiculous statements that conditions are worse under prohibition than during saloon days has caused many to hesitate. The dries will probably be whipped this time, and booze may flow freely in most of the states. The pendulum seems to be swinging to the far opposite direction in religious, moral and educational fields. Freedom of thought and action is demanded by the people. When the people see the destructive influences attending this freedom, they will repudiate the action which they are threatening to take at this time, and then booze will be wiped out for all time.

Barry Miller is dead. Another of the unique, and old fashioned fighting political leaders of Texas has passed from the scene of action. Barry Miller's name has been connected with politics in Texas for more than 50 years, as a district judge, a member of both the state Senate and House of Representatives, and three times lieutenant governor of the state. His last political race was for Governor four years ago, which ended in defeat, and closed his political career. Barry Miller presided over the Texas Senate in fairness to friend and enemy alike. His rulings came quickly, and to the satisfaction of all. His political arch enemy, Tom Love, always praised Barry Miller for his fair decisions. He loved nothing better than a fight; win, lose or draw, he never faltered in his belief; never was tempted to leave the course which he believed was right.

"No BUSINESS in any town should allow a newspaper to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town."

The life of a town depends upon the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man.—THE AMERICAN BANKERS MAGAZINE.

be willing to hand out money very freely on various public projects, many schemes are being devised all over the nation. Cities and counties are making all kinds of projects, many of which will not prove to be as self-liquidating as the promoters now believe. The question is now being raised as to whether counties and cities may accept government money without a vote of the people. These are loans, in the same nature as bond issues, which must be passed upon by the people. If many of these projects are placed before the people, the federal government will not be out so much money as indications are now that it will be. The public is too willing to grab off things that look to be free, even though they have to pay later on, but now, with a depression on, it is fortunate that they are looking over these investment schemes.

Bankers are trying to figure out the meaning of the new banking law. It is likely that little will be known by the small banks until the federal authorities lay down the new regulations. It will be interesting to see how the new depositor's guaranty feature works. It has failed so far as the individual states are concerned. Every state which has passed such a law has been forced to repeal it. Perhaps the federal government may be able to work out a plan which will really work. Incidentally, Canyon and Randall county citizens should feel mighty proud of the fact that since this county was organized there has never been a bank failure, and today the local banks are in better shape than ever before. That is a record equalled by few counties in the State.

It is hard for the average citizen to comprehend what the world's conference is all about when it is sought to set a price on money. This wonderful isolation which American people thought they enjoyed seems to have brought us untold complex problems for which we are not prepared. The value of money means little or nothing to Mr. Average Citizen. The real problem for him is what the dollar will buy in the necessities of life. If the dollar buys plenty, he is satisfied; if it buys little, then he is discontented. However, just now

A Clubby Sort, This Diegel . . . Indianapolis, Frisco Boys Sure Can Hit That Apple . . . Is Mr. Khayyam Good, O-mar!

BY PHILIP MARTIN

A FEW items about sport personalities, gathered here and there:

Leo Diegel, that fellow who puts with the funny crouch and elbows bent straight out, has a hankering for golf clubs—and that pet hobby has caused him to collect more than 50 of them. Leo has 15 woods, five putters, and some 30 irons.

WHILE the hitters of the major leagues seem to be stopped by the slants of the pitchers, the boys of the American Association and the Pacific Coast League are hitting that pellet hard.

Leading the Pacific Coast circuit for the third time is Oscar Eckhardt, of the San Francisco Missions. Oscar has a mark of 470—and he's a freak hitter! He likes to swing at a bad ball, they say, and, while a left-hand hitter, he can hop them into left field, crossing up the opposing outfield time and again. He was formerly with the Tigers and the Braves.

The boy out in front of the American Association swatters is Frank Sigafos, of the Indianapolis Indians. Frank is sporting a mark of 430. In a recent game against the Milwaukee Brewers, this former law student slugged out four hits in five times up—a single, double, triple and home run.

BOYS who follow the ponies at Washington Park, Chicago, are placing their money on a jockey, rather than a horse. The reason is that a 16-year-old jock, Jack Westrope, is on his way to the top of the winning riders' list.

Jack hails from Miles City, Mont., where his father owns a ranch. The kid had his first mount on Jan. 21, this year, at Oriental Park, Cuba. And since that day he has been leading the pack of baby-faced riders. His biggest day was the one in which he booted home five winners at Washington Park. The day before he rode both winning horses in the "daily double."

LOUISIANA State is bringing up from the south a track team that is sure to cause trouble at the N. A. C. C. meet at Chicago, June 16-17.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Complimenting Miss Audrey Cayton, bride-elect of Mr. Malcolm Hunt, Miss Evelyn Shanklin entertained Thursday afternoon with an announcement party and surprise shower at her home, 2000 Fourth Avenue.

The receiving rooms were marked at intervals with vases of fragrant summer flowers, following a color scheme of pink and green.

Immediately upon their arrival the guests were shown into the dining room where they were served from a table laid with an exquisite cover of Mexican drawn-work. Pink and green tapers shed a soft radiance over the table and the lovely accessories. Refreshments of mint punch, candies, and macaroons were served, each plate carrying as a favor a hand-painted sweet pea corsage, in which was concealed the announcement of the marriage date, Sunday, July 9.

A musical program, interspersed with appropriate readings, was given during the first hour. The room where the gifts were presented was artistically decorated with bright-colored Mexican serapes. In the center stood an immense umbrella, adorned with pink and green crepe paper, from which streamed countless strands of serpentine. The guest of honor was seated beneath the umbrella for the opening and showing of the packages.

The house party included Misses Mary Berryman, Alleith Elliston, Dorothy Cash and Marion Hill.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB IS ACTIVE

In spite of the drouth and heat and the many duties at home with gardens and chickens and even the harvest season, the interest of the ladies of this community in their club work has not lagged during the month of June. Their record in the dress contest on the 7th of June was something to be proud of. Eleven dresses were entered, and two members, Mrs. J. J. Wright and Mrs. L. A. Donnell won first and second places respectively in a group of 82 contestants. Two others, Mrs. J. E. Hunter and Mrs. P. H. Baber received favorable mention.

Miss Bass couldn't be present with the club at its regular meeting on June 14th at the home of Mrs. W. L. Arent, for a canning demonstration on account of being with the district officers in the wardrobe work. It was voted at this meeting to help pay the expense of the winner in the wardrobe contest on her trip to A. & M.

On Tuesday, June 20th, Mrs. L. A. Donnell, assisted by members of the club served a luncheon to the Canyon Rotary Club at the home of Mrs. A. N. Burgan. The club followed out its usual program with Miss Lilla Beth Burroughs at the piano. Vases of flowers were placed at points of vantage in the spacious rooms of the Burgan home and low bowls of sweet peas marked the centers of the long dining tables. A sumptuous repast of fried chicken and all the accessories was served, and the members of the club expressed themselves as being delighted with the meal.

Mrs. F. M. Shotwell at the Canyon Country Club entertained the Demonstration Club on Wednesday, June 20. The subject for discussion was "The Correct Time for Canning and the Fermentation of Vegetables." Miss Bass will be present at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. S. F. Dove.

Common Question Asked in Canning

(By MISS SADIE KATE BASS)

Why do beets turn white?

1. You may not use the right kind of seed, use Detroit Dark Red.
2. Your beets may be too old.
3. Be sure the liquids and beets are of the same temperature when put together.

Why do beets and beans have sediment along the side of the jars?

1. The water is too hard.
2. Using table salt will cause a sediment. It is better to use meat salt in canning.
3. Your product may have been too old, especially your beets.

Why do English peas turn cloudy?

1. The water is too hard.
2. The peas are too old.
3. You may have used table salt.
4. You have not graded your peas properly.
5. You may have some mineral in your water that causes it.
6. You may have a flat sour.

What causes a flat sour?

1. Holding the product too long after gathering before putting it in the container.
2. Sealing the product in the container and having to wait too long before processing.
3. You did not cool your product quick enough.

How can I keep the water in my jars?

1. Pre-cook your product thoroughly. It will take drouth beans longer to pre-cook than those with plenty of water.
2. Fill the jar to the first rim with the product and then add enough liquid to come to the second rim leaving an air space at the top.
3. Follow all other directions as given in your canning bulletin.

Lamson, Stanford graduate and representative of the university paper, who will stand trial soon on charges of slaying his pretty wife, Allene, left. Price Acres To Go On Auction Block August 1

Creditors closing in on the big acreage of Hickman Price, known two years ago as one of the world's largest wheat farmers, will force between 7,000 and 8,000 acres of his land onto the auction block August 1.

Eleven months ago Price called his creditors into a meeting at his headquarters in Kress and advised them that he was ready to surrender his properties. Two years of low prices, coupled with a short crop brought on by a drought last year had exhausted his fortune of $250,000, he told his creditors.

More than 500,000 bushels of wheat was produced by Price in 1931, on 22,000 acres, about half of which was leased. He operated 50 combines day and night to harvest the crop. His plowing and seeding also continued 24 hours a day, his men working in three shifts. He maintained his own machine shop, mess hall and sleeping quarters. He cultivated an irrigated garden tract and canned vegetables and meats to feed his employees. His entire operation was on an industrial scale.

Shoals Bill Makes Tennessee Valley Vast Experimental Laboratory

IN carrying out "the greatest public development ever attempted by any nation"—the Muscle Shoals program—Uncle Sam will transform the Tennessee river valley into a giant laboratory, for the conduct of experiments that may have a tremendous effect on the future of American industry.

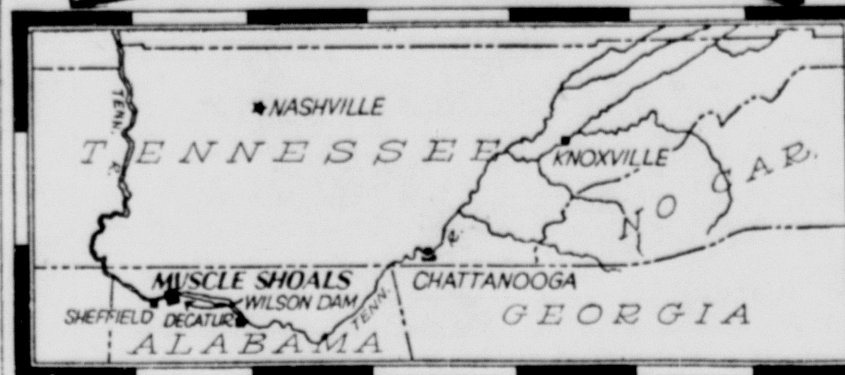

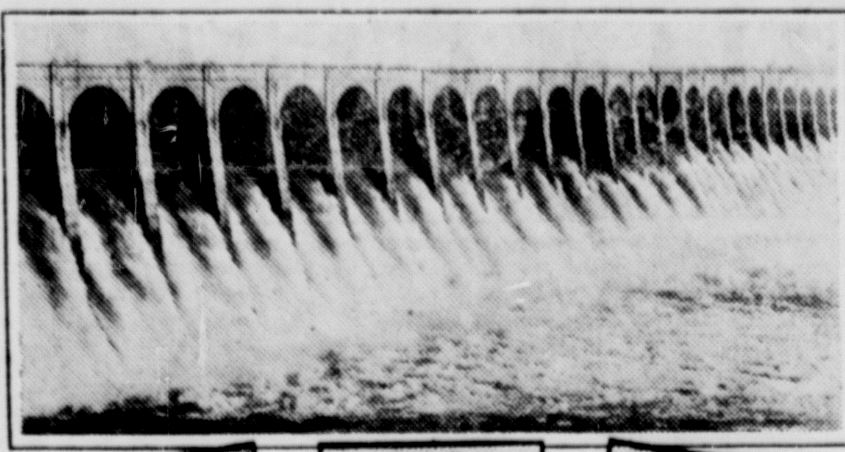

By harnessing the Tennessee river with a hydro-electric set-up of 22 dams costing $500,000,000, Uncle Sam hopes to develop from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 horsepower at a cost of less than a half-cent per kilowatt-hour. This, if the government is successful, will be the cheapest power ever developed by man; and will provide a yardstick by which to gauge and regulate power rates of private enterprises.

Cheap fertilizer for the American farmer; reforestation of some 100,000,000 acres of land; reclamation of millions of acres of fertile, river-bottom lands; and flood control of the Tennessee and Mississippi rivers, are some of the other benefits the government hopes to derive from the Shoals program.

To carry out the work, which will affect 10 states directly and the rest of the country indirectly, 75,000 men, approximately, will be employed the first year; 200,000 eventually.

The Tennessee Valley Authority, a board of three members, will have charge of the program. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., has been named chairman of the board. Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, president of the University of Tennessee, and David E. Lillenthal of Wisconsin, have been nominated by President Roosevelt to complete its membership.

A DESCRIPTION of the Tennessee river reveals why the Muscle Shoals basin is a most apt location for what the president terms the future "American Ruhr." The river starts in the Great Smoky Mountains of Virginia, swings down through Tennessee and Alabama, then turns upward to join the Ohio river—forming a giant "U." At the base of the "U" is Muscle Shoals. Here the river's most abrupt fall—134 feet in 34 miles—affords immense water-power possibilities. There are other important factors, too, which explain the immense potentialities of Muscle Shoals. Within 100 miles radius tremendous deposits of iron ore, coal, oil, limestone and other materials provide easily-obtainable essentials for the building of a vast industrial empire in Tennessee valley.

THE possibilities of a development of Muscle Shoals have been recognized for more than a century. From the early 1800's until the time of the World War, futile requests were made of Congress for appropriations to develop the Tennessee river for navigation purposes. During the World War the need for nitrates for use in munitions prompted the building of the huge Wilson dam. Nitrate plants built adjacent to the dam had hardly been completed when the Armistice was signed. From that time until just recently, Congress was unable to agree on whether to scrap, develop further or sell to private industry the $50,000,000 "white elephant" that lay idle.

For years Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska fought to prevent the project from falling into the hands of private interests, and his efforts were crowned with success when President Roosevelt adopted the present Muscle Shoals program.

News in Canyon 25 Years Ago

Canyon City is to celebrate the Fourth of July. The stores are to be closed and the Canyon City band is to furnish an entertainment. The band program is for an open air concert on the public square in the morning; a baseball game on the Fair grounds in the evening and a concert at the opera house at night.

Mrs. Potts of Dallas, came by Monday to visit her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Pipkin. Mrs. Potts is going to reside at Plainview where her husband has a position.

Rector Lester came home Saturday on his summer vacation. He has been at Yale and intends returning there in September.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cox of Castro county, visited relatives, M. F. Slover and family, this week.

Roy Cullum left last week on a few days visit to relatives at Mineral Wells.

Grady Pipkin went to Plainview Tuesday.

Mayor Haney returned from the Shreveport convention Monday. Dr. Cunningham and W. Crudgington of Amarillo went with him to represent the interests of that town. Mr. Haney says that the convention was well attended; that our Congressman Stephens was among those present and that he is of the opinion that the Palo Duro Park project got a big boost.

County Judge Henson, Sam B. Lofton and Chas. Huffines were among those visiting Amarillo on "Governor's Day."

John Mitchell, the great labor leader, is being mentioned as a running mate with Mr. Bryan on the Democratic national ticket. Mr. Mitchell is a Democrat, always has been and his popularity with labor, skilled and unskilled, is unquestioned. The Republican ticket considered, in the opinion of The News editor, Bryan and Mitchell would "sweep" the country.

The president's reforestation program is expected to aid in bringing back prosperity. Getting the men into the woods, the government believes, will get the nation out of the woods.

It Is The Same Old Serpent of all Ages, Past, Present

Let's see what Robert G. Ingersoll said before the Supreme Court of Illinois, more than thirty years before Prohibition was adopted.

No greater indictment was ever brought against the liquor crime than is found in the following philippic by Robert G. Ingersoll:

I am aware that there is prejudice against any man engaged in the manufacture of alcohol.

I believe that from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to where it ends.

I do not think anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against the liquor crime.

All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the stream of death,

- the suicides,
- the insanity,
- the poverty,
- the ignorance,
- the destitution,
- the little children tugging at the faded and weary breast,
- weeping and despairing wives asking for bread,
- talented men of genius it has wrecked,
- the struggling men with imaginary serpents produced by the devilish thing.

And when you think of the jails, the almshouses, the asylums, the prisons, the scaffolds, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this stuff called ALCOHOL.

Intemperance cuts down

- youth in its vigor,
- manhood in its strength,
- and age in its weakness.

It breaks the father's heart,

- bereaves the doing mother,
- extinguishes the natural affections,
- erases conjugal love,
- blots out filial attachments,
- blights parental hope, and
- brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave.

It produces weakness, not strength,

- Sickness, not health,
- death, not life.

It makes wives, widows;

- children, orphans;
- fathers, fiends;
- and all of them paupers and beggars.

It feeds rheumatism,

- it nurses gout,
- welcomes epidemics,

- invites cholera,
- imports pestilence,
- embraces consumption.

It covers the land with idleness,

- with misery and
- with crime.

It fills your jails,

- supplies your almshouses,
- floods your asylums,

It engenders controversies,

- fosters quarrels,
- cherishes riots,

It crowds your penitentiaries,

- furnishes victims for your scaffolds,

It is the life blood of the gambler,

- the inspiring element of the burglar,
- the prop of the highwayman,
- the support of the midnight incendiary.

It countenances the liar,

- respects the thief,
- cheers the blasphemer.

It violates obligations,

- reverences fraud,
- honors infamy.

It defames benevolence,

- hates love,
- scorns virtue,
- slanders innocence.

It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring,

- helps the husband to massacre his wife, and
- the child to grind the paternal ax.

It burns up men,

- consumes women,
- detests life,
- curses God,
- despises heaven.

It suborns witnesses,

- nurses perjury,
- defiles ermine.

It degrades the citizen,

- debauches the Legislator,
- dishonors statesmen,
- disarms the patriot.

It brings shame, not honor,

- brings terror not safety,
- brings despair, not hope,
- brings misery, not happiness.

And with the malevolence of a fiend it calmly surveys its frightful desolation.

Not satisfied with its havoc, it

- poisons felicity,
- kills peace,
- ruins morals,
- blights confidence,
- slays reputation,
- wipes out national honor.

It then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.

It does that and more. It murders the soul.

NEWSPAPER MORATORIUM

Now that we've taken care of the banks and the building and loan companies and the insurance companies and the railroads and the mortgage companies and the farmers—does anybody have any objection to some sort of a relief for the newspapers?

Bad times and good times, the newspaper must go on, just the same. The harder the times, the greater the value of news. The newspapers must be manned. It costs just as much to get out the newspapers despite the fact that advertising has dropped to a new record low ebb.

But no one sheds tears for the newspapers. Newspapers are supposed to cry for the relief of others, sob for the suffering individual or corporation, foam and snarl for justice and retribution. Every ache is carried to the newspapers, every complaint is given to the press, appeals for the needy, pleas for business, charitable and civic organizations, begging for political reform—all is a part of the newspaper's duty to the public.

But when business falls off, advertising contracts are cancelled and publishers are struggling for a livelihood a sudden attack of deafness comes over the land.

Why not a newspaper moratorium? Let every newspaper in the land close down until business picks up—if it can; close every radio station against news broadcasting; allow every gossip on the townsite the freedom of the streets and

Jobs for 4,000,000 in Near Future Is Aim of Giant Recovery Plan

TO put approximately 4,000,000 jobless Americans to work in the next several months, raise wages and prices, stop cut-throat competition, and restore the buying power of farmers and wage-earners—these are the primary objects of the titanic new industrial recovery act, recently passed by Congress.

In the nation-wide attack on the depression, the industrial bill is expected to prove the most effective weapon in the record-breaking array of major relief legislation enacted by Congress in the recent session. It will tackle from two angles the problem of bringing back prosperity: first, by providing for employment with the expenditure of $3,300,000,000 for public works; and, second, by securing the co-operation of trade and industry in the co-ordination of industrial effort.

It is planned to keep the bill in operation two years; hardly anyone, however, believes that it will be abandoned then, unless it has failed in its aims. In that event, a more far-reaching program would be inevitable.

General Hugh Johnson—soldier, organizer, man of action—will direct this smashing offensive against hard times. And he's well qualified for the formidable job. This 50-year-old Kansan was one of the principal administrators of war-time control of industries in 1917-18.

THE provisions of the new measure aim to bring the 7000 industries of the United States under government control by investing them with a public interest. Each trade association that is really representative of its particular line of trade or industry must draw up an acceptable "code of fair competition." The code must be fair and square to all; it must not frown upon labor unions, and the right of workers to bargain collectively. It must specify maximum hours of labor, minimum rates of pay, and other labor standards approved by President Roosevelt.

With the president's stamp of approval, the code thereupon becomes effective and binding upon the entire trade or industry represented by the particular association.

To speed industry's progress toward resumption of normal activity, the president may suspend the anti-trust laws at will. Those associations which fail to offer a satisfactory code may have a "ready-made" one forced on them by the government. A licensing system permits the government to force out of business minor industries that fail to obey the majority code.

THE second part of the bill, and the one which promises the most immediate benefits, provides for an extremely ambitious public works program. The sum of $3,300,000,000 will be spent by Uncle Sam to create several million new jobs. Part of this sum will be spent on federal buildings, new warships, river and harbor improvements, and the Tennessee Valley development project. The rest may be given to states and cities for the building of roads, sewers, docks, bridges, etc.

This money needed to start the wheels of industry turning will be obtained directly from the public in order not to throw the national budget off balance. Revisions in the income tax law, and taxes on the capital value and profits of corporations, on dividends and on gasoline are expected to provide the $227,000,000 a year needed to pay the interest and finally extinguish the debt incurred under the industrial recovery act.

According to Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, who had a large share in the framing of the law, the two-year program is frankly an experiment. But, administered by a capable chief executive, Senator Wagner predicts that the bill "will play a tremendous role in the speedy restoration of the American people to a healthy state of affairs."

telephones; make it necessary for every politician to glorify himself single-handedly; let the public do its own guessing as to what is happening throughout the civilized world.

Then, maybe, when the newsmen begin crying in the streets again there would be an appreciation of the problems of the press.

You "can't believe what you see in the paper" anyway.—Arthur Carruth in the Topeka (Kan.) Journal.

LOOKING FORWARD

Business is starting up again. That is clear and definite. Men are looking ahead and not backwards. And it is our belief that we are going ahead into better times than we have ever known. That has been the history of every past recovery. The deeper the depression, the higher the heights reached after the depression has been passed.

Don't ask us how it is going to be accomplished. We have little patience with people who want precise plans and specifications before they will believe that things can be done. There is an element of faith which is, after all, the chief moving force in human affairs; and at the moment people are regaining faith in the future of their country at a rate which surprises us.

We hear many different explanations.

Don't make the mistake of hitting a man when he's down unless you think he is going to stay down.

Don't make the mistake of hitting a man when he's down unless you think he is going to stay down.

NOW, Before Prices Go Higher, Order A NEW DEAL for Your Home!

Live Electrically

FOR A FEW CENTS A DAY

As our "New Deal" gains momentum we find commodity prices again swinging definitely upward. Cost of Living is increasing again—how high it will go remains to be seen.

Since 1914 the Cost of Living has increased 32.1 per cent, according to U. S. Department of Commerce Figures. But in this period the cost of electricity in Canyon homes has been reduced 50 per cent. And from our chart we learn that while commodity prices were soaring upward following the war the cost of electric service was coming down.

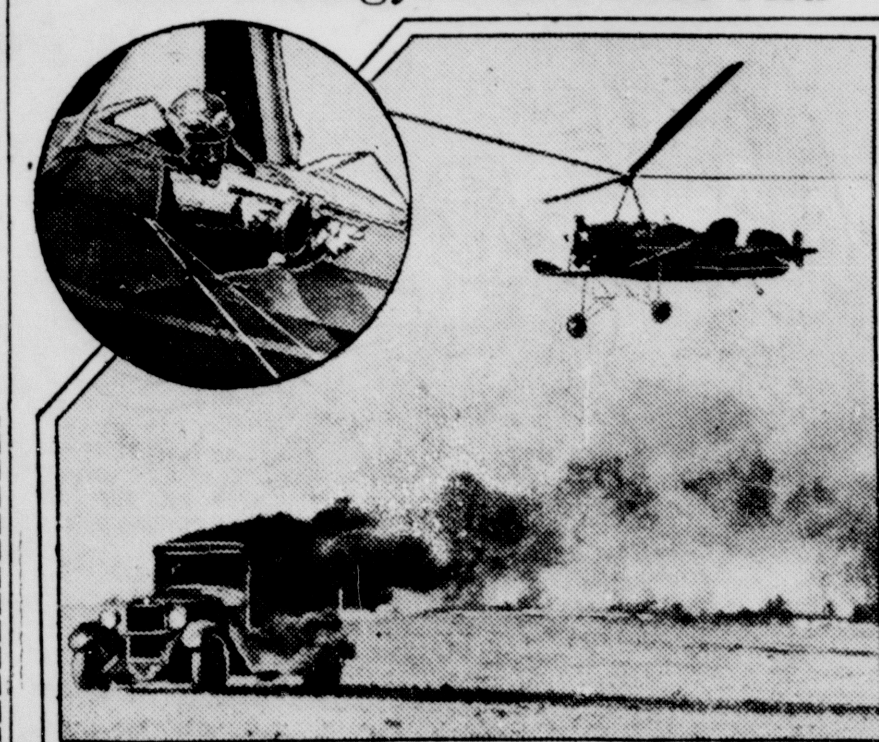

Electricity is cheap. We may have electricity for a few cents a day and enjoy the comfort, the safety, the convenience and pleasure that complete electric service gives.

Now, before prices go higher, make a "New Deal" for your home. Check up on your lighting, your cooling, your cooking equipment—find out what you need and how little it costs at present low prices. See your dealer for electrical appliances—call a contractor to figure wiring costs.

Test Autogyro as Police Aid

In a test to learn whether autogyro planes would be useful to police in pursuing holdup men and bank robbers who attempt to escape by auto, a moving auto was successfully halted when bullets from an autogyro smashed its distributor, and other bullets, of the tracer type, set it afire. Police conducted the test at a Bryn Athyn, Pa., aviation field. The make-believe bandit car is shown above after bullets had set it afire. In inset, Police Chief Theodore Hollowell is shown with a sub-machine gun in the cockpit of the autogyro.

Wallace R. Clark Gave Second Pro- gram of Lyceum

Wallace R. Clark presented the second number of the summer Lyceum Course Tuesday evening, his program given in the form of a lecture-recital.

A large audience enjoyed Mr. Clark's singing and was much interested in his definition of singing which he gave, using his songs to illustrate his idea that "Singing is the interpretation of text by means of musical tone produced by the human voice."

If one group of songs was any more delightful to the hearers than the others, it was the Negro spirituals which Mr. Clark sings with an understanding born of long acquaintance with the Negro people.

His program follows:
Recit. "Thy Hand, Belinda."
Air. "When I am Laid in Earth."
"I Attempt from Love's Sickness to Fly."

"Till Sail upon the Dog Star."
—Henry Purcell, 1658-1695.

"Singing is the interpretation of text by means of musical tone produced by the human voice."

Requiem—Sidney Homer.

Uncle Rome—Sidney Homer.

How's My Boy—Sidney Homer.

Rolling Down to Rio—Edward German.

"Fine tone is the result of fine pronunciation."

"Her Portrait"—Schubert.

"Singing is reading plus; Song is literature plus."

Negro Spirituals.

The next number of the summer entertainment program will be given July 11 at 7:30 with Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the speech department as the artist. Students are showing their approval of these vespers hour programs by their large attendance. These are blanket tax attractions, open to the public for 25 cents each.

Mrs. R. W. Ratcliff returned Tuesday from Mineral Wells where she has been spending three weeks.

O. C. Burgess and family have moved to Amarillo for the summer. They have been here the past year on account of the school facilities.

Misses Charline and Majorie Burch, of Amarillo, are spending the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Upfold of this city.

Rain of .55 Inch Fell In Canyon Monday

Rain amounting to .55 of an inch fell in Canyon Monday afternoon. The rain clouds came from the southeast, with a heavy down-pour over that section of the county. Very little rain fell north, east or west of Canyon.

The continued drought over this section has made a very serious situation as to pasture and feed crop. It is estimated that pasture is only 8% of normal and it is hard to estimate the row crop. Since the first of January only 4.04 inches of moisture has fallen in Canyon.

Park Project

Government officials were in Amarillo Sunday seeking location for two camps of ex-service men on the land west of Canyon at the site of the Amarillo water dam. Mayor Ross Rogers recommended that the two camps be transferred to the Palo Duro owing to the large amount of work that is possible on the project.

Those working on the project believe that everything possible to rush the project has been done, and that only a few days at the most will be necessary to see the final disposition of the project.

Palo Duro Peeps

Miss Martha Niemann of Wisconsin is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Pauline Wendelken.

Misses Aline Wright and La Veta Ruthardt spent Sunday with Clara and Martha Miller.

Austel Burrus spent part of last week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer.

Mrs. Pauline Wendelken served a dinner Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerdsen, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Lesberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Collman and daughter, and Mrs. Mary Leopold of Amarillo.

Mrs. A. A. Harding visited with Mrs. Henry Miller Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Newberry have returned to Canyon to make their home and Mr. Newberry is again associated with the Palo Duro Cafe.

Adjustment

stration executives, as the first major step on "the new untrod path" of adjusting American agriculture to changed world conditions, and the first large-scale attempt at economic planning for agriculture.

In direct charge of the production part of the program, are Chester C. Davis, general crop-production director, M. L. Wilson, production chief for wheat, and A. J. Weaver, senior economic specialist for wheat.

Under the plan, each State is to be allotted for the purpose of determining compensating payments to cooperating farmers that number of bushels of wheat which represents its production of the average domestic consumption for the 5-year period. This 5-year base was found the fairest and most representative method of making both state and county allotments.

The county production allotments, in turn, will be apportioned on the same basis. Within the county, allotments to individual farms will be made by county wheat production control associations on the basis of the 3-year average production, and these allotments will be published in the county press.

"A fundamental difference between this plan and most prior proposals to raise wheat prices," Mr. Davis said, "is that this program offers the farmer an improved income from wheat, a direct incentive to reduce his production, when curtailment is required."

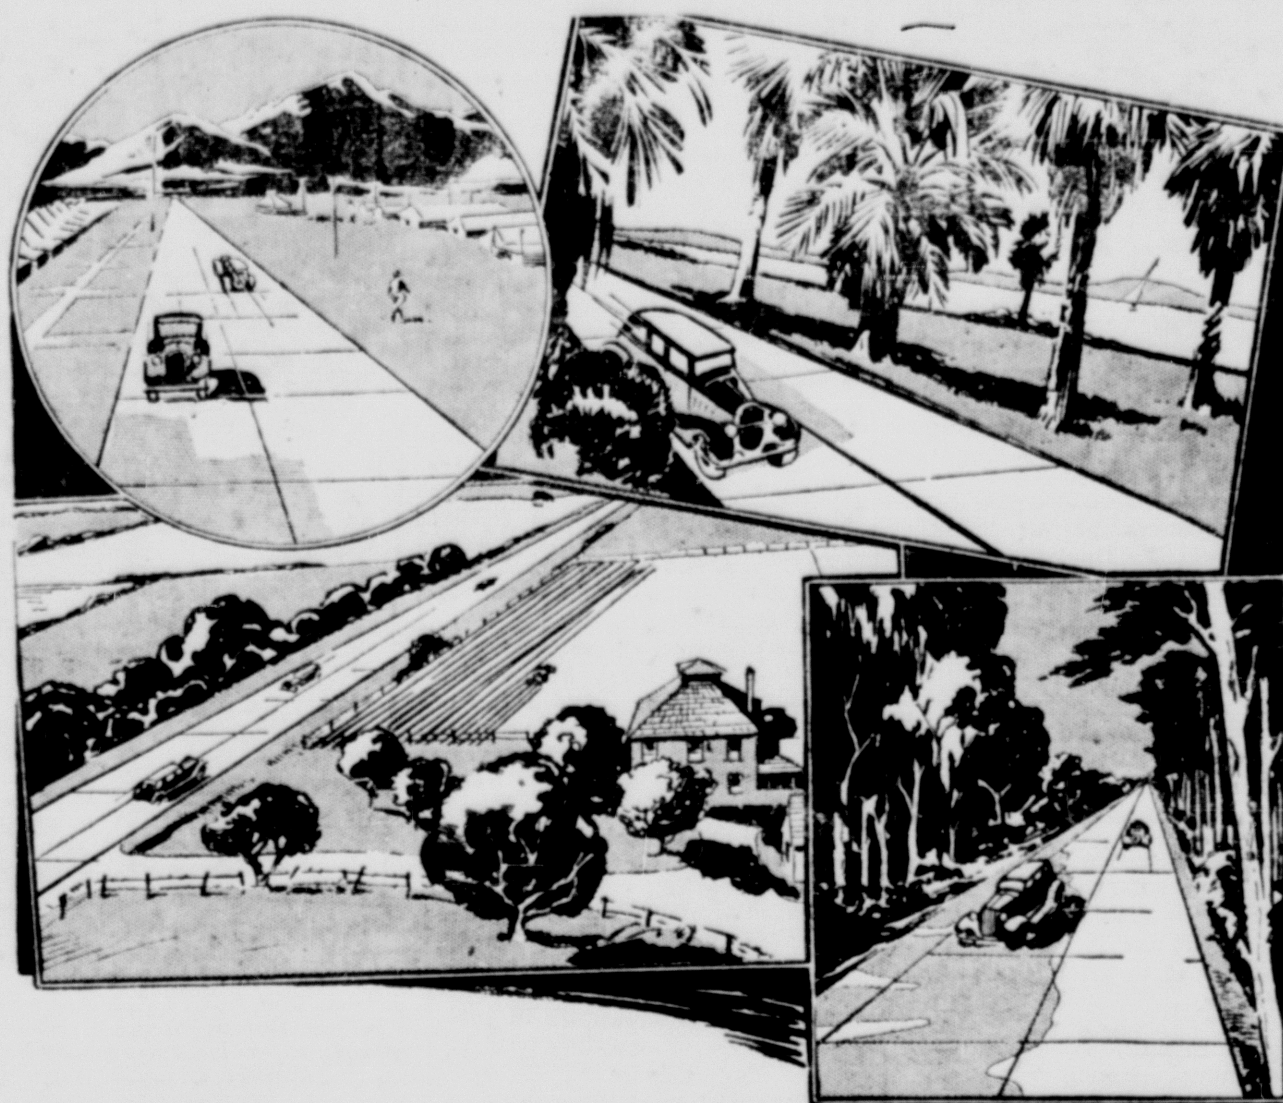

"Hitherto the individual wheat farmers' interests have run counter to those of the group," Mr. Davis pointed out. "The individual's interest was to expand when he thought the group would curtail. This clash of interests long has made organized curtailment impossible."

"But this plan holds out the compensating payments as a substantial financial incentive to the individual farmer to hold down his own production. It seems to harmonize and identify the group's interest with that of the unit wheat farmer."

The proposal adheres closely to specifications laid down by President Roosevelt in his speech at Topeka, Kansas, last September.

It is voluntary, self-financing, contains within itself a curb upon over-production, and is recommended by the farm organizations. It will not stimulate dumping, and is

TEXAS SCENIC BEAUTIES SKETCHED ON TRAVELAX ROUTE

Take the word of a widely known Texas artist, Guy F. Cahoon, the highways of the Lone Star State afford a variety of scenic beauties not excelled by any other section of these United States. Mr. Cahoon has made travel sketches illustrating many parts of the world, but finds sufficient subjects at home to make him especially enthusiastic regarding the natural beauties of his own state.

"In Western Texas the motoring vacationist and his family can revel in the inspiring grandeur of rugged mountains," says Mr. Cahoon. "In Northern Texas they find long stretches of straight, smooth highway to intrigue them onward, mile after mile, over level, picturesque plains. In East Texas the traveler thrills to the peace and beauty of the wooded country as he motors through stately pines. To the south he enjoys a wealth of luxuriant, sub-tropical plant life as he travels through the palm-bordered roads of South Texas and the Gulf Coast country. Truly, a variety of scenery as wide as the range of sports and interests to which they lead."

The above illustrations were sketched by Mr. Cahoon for the Portland Cement Association and show typical scenes along the Travelax Route. Maps showing concrete highways in Texas (The Travelax Route) are now being distributed by the Association and may be obtained by writing their offices at Dallas.

to be decentralized in administration.

Supplementing the production-control plan, efforts will be made to dispose of the existing surplus in foreign markets, by methods not in conflict with international agreements.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will cooperate with existing agencies to facilitate export movement of wheat as authorized by the Act. This is to be aimed directly at reducing the carry-over.

Cigarette Holder Made in Turkey to the Museum

Some odd and interesting articles from strange places find their way into the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, and although they do not always pertain to this region they add pleasure to the visits of people, partly through their intrinsic merit and partly because they indicate something of the farflung interests and travels of people who now live in the Panhandle.

Such an object is a Turkish cigarette holder, about eighteen inches in length, and intricate in design. It was carved by a prisoner in an Albanian jail. Tools were a wire and a pocket knife, the wire being used to make the hole in the long stem. The cigarette is placed in a tiny bowl at the end of the long stem, the effect being that of a very fancy pipe.

This was placed in the Museum by Nick Sotir, of Amarillo who purchased it from the maker in Turkey.

Mrs. E. D. Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harrell and daughter, Misses Fannie Sue Brasuel and Lillian J. Atkins went to Chicago Sunday on the special train to the fair.

Industrial Plant In Amarillo Was Visited by Students

The Borden Milk Plant, Amarillo was the destination of a party of students yesterday afternoon; this excursion is one of many planned to enable students and prospective teachers to learn something of the history of commodities which enter into present day life.

The plant superintendent, Mr. Anderson, conducted the party thru the plant where all the processes were seen. Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Mrs. Frank R. Phillips and Miss M. Moss Richardson were faculty members who accompanied the party.
